

Table of Consanguinity

Showing degrees of relationship

“Affinity” is relationship by marriage (and some adoption situations). A first-degree relative by affinity could be a spouse, step-child, step-parent, adopted child, mother-in-law or father-in-law. Using the chart above, adding “step” or “in-law” to the chart position determines the same degree of relationship. The boxes in gray are within third degree.